Thanks to its elegance and strength, wood is a basic element of interior design and offers many useful functional characteristics for modern buildings. Special treatments to wood for sound absorption, fire and humidity resistance make it the perfect product for interior ceiling and wall panels combined with a very attractive appearance.

Salon range of wood-based interior panels offer brilliant aesthetical options with guaranteed acoustical performance. They are a complete family of products with surface patterns, edge detailing and matching accessories to meet the needs of any architectural space especially offices, auditoria, classrooms, hotels, worship spaces, studios, airports and home theatres.

Engineered solutions for the creativity of the designer make Salon easy to install and brilliant in their performance with stunning visuals to match. They are premium panels for high-end spaces chosen by discerning customers.... exclusive products for the connoisseur.

The visual variants offer great choice to designers and aesthetics for any kind of space.
